Jean-Brice Rodriguez MD MRCOG

- Current position:

Consultant in Obstetrics and Gynaecology at Lancashire Teaching Hospitals, Preston, UK.

Lead of the Central Lancashire Endometriosis Centre. Accredited Centre for the treatment of severe endometriosis.

Faculty member of IRCAD, Strasbourg, France

- Education and Training:

After completing my medical education at the Medical University of Strasbourg, France, I moved to the UK and completed my training in Obstetrics and Gynaecology in the Yorkshire Deanery. Between 2006 and 2007 I completed a fellowship at IRCAD, Strasbourg, under the supervision of Professor A. Wattiez. During this fellowship I learned and developed laparoscopic surgical skills.

In 2010 I completed a University diploma in Urogynaecology at the Faculty of Nimes/Montpellier.

- Activities

I perform a wide range of laparoscopic surgery for benign gynaecological conditions. My main interest and activity is laparoscopic surgery for advanced endometriosis, as well as laparoscopic repair for prolapse.

As part of my professional activities, I am regularly invited as a speaker at various conferences and meetings. I also teach regularly on the laparoscopic courses delivered at IRCAD several times a year and supervise delegates in the laboratory workshop at the IRCAD institute.

I hold professional memberships with the European Society for Gynaecological Endoscopy, the British Society for Gynaecological Endoscopy and the British Society of Urogynaecology.

Ertan Saridogan MD, PhD, FRCOG

I studied medicine at Hacettepe University Faculty of Medicine in Turkey and completed my initial specialist training in the Obstetrics and Gynaecology Department, Istanbul University Cerrahpasa School of Medicine in 1991. I then moved to London for further postgraduate training in Reproductive Medicine and completed my PhD studies in Obstetrics and Gynaecology at St Bartholomew's and The Royal London School of Medicine, University of London.

In 1996, I was granted Associate Professorship by the Higher Education Council of Turkey. Following this, I embarked on training in Minimal Access Surgery and was appointed as a Consultant in Reproductive Medicine and Minimal Access Surgery at University College London Hospitals in 2000. I was the President of the British Society for Gynaecological Endoscopy (BSGE) between 2014 and 2016, a Trustee and the Chairman of Medical Advisory Panel of Endometriosis UK between 2011 and 2016, the Representative of United Kingdom for the European Society for Human Reproduction and Embryology (ESHRE) between 2013 and 2014, and President of the International Society of Reproductive Surgery between 2017 and 2018.

I have served the European Society for Gynaecological Endoscopy (ESGE) over the years as the Chair of Local Organising Committee of 2011 Congress in London, President of the 2015 Congress in Budapest and Chair of Special Interest Groups. Currently I am the Scientific Co-Chair of the ESGE Annual Congresses, a co-opted member of the ESGE Executive Board, Editor of the ESGE Newsletter ESGE-Vision and Director of the BSGE Gynaecological Endoscopic Surgery Education and Assessment (GESEA) Programme.

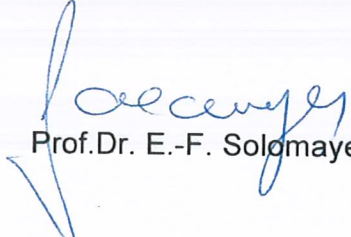

I would like to continue serving the ESGE as an elected member of the Advisory Board and would like to use my experience and links to continue contributing to the vision and objectives of our Society.
